VOLUME IX

IN APPRECIATION

We, the class of 1969, wish to express our deep appreciation to Mr. Fadness, who we feel has done much for our class and Luther High.

He has played an active role throughout our four years at Luther, starting with our freshman registration and continually helping us until the time of our graduation.

Mr. Fadness has dedicated his past 11 years to the success of Luther High. In his first years here, he began the science and lab departments. After his retirement he became the full - time business manager. From that point on, he has helped the students with class funds, student accounting, the hot lunch program and the management of a bookstore. In his spare time, Mr. Fadness has made a set of bleachers and a trophy case for our school.

He is indeed an irreplaceable member of the staff of Luther High. We feel the school has greatly benefited from his work and presence here.

One sure way to economize is to live as cheaply right
after pay day as you do just before it.

Hi Harry,

I just had to write before the section School Life. I'm not quite sure if that's actually what they ought to call it. Wasn't the homecoming float & skit just cool. I thought it was funny when they said something about Red and then you walked across the stage. Me being a cheerleader and running around was way too much, too. Tournaments were fun. Some of the pictures should be hidden. The singing, flushing the toilet, & looking out the window was really fun. Biology was fun when we got a question. I always had to look up the answer. I can't get over all the tennis matches there was this year. We had an unbeaten record. It's too bad you didn't get to see jet-bomber at tournaments. You didn't miss much. How about the time we were all going to the movie and you and I were the only ones at the meeting place? They had terrific hats at Pennys. English was just too much. I can't wait to see the semester. When there's always band festival. Too bad those boys couldn't stay at your house. You got to take them to and from. I'll bet you were thrilled to death. We'll have to play tennis this summer. You'll bet me because I can't play too hot. Just think next year juniors! It seems like I just came to school (after I walked by Omd. Public High) dressed up. Remember last year coming home from the picnic (smelling pickles) how we said it had gone so fast. The year sure did. Be good. Sue

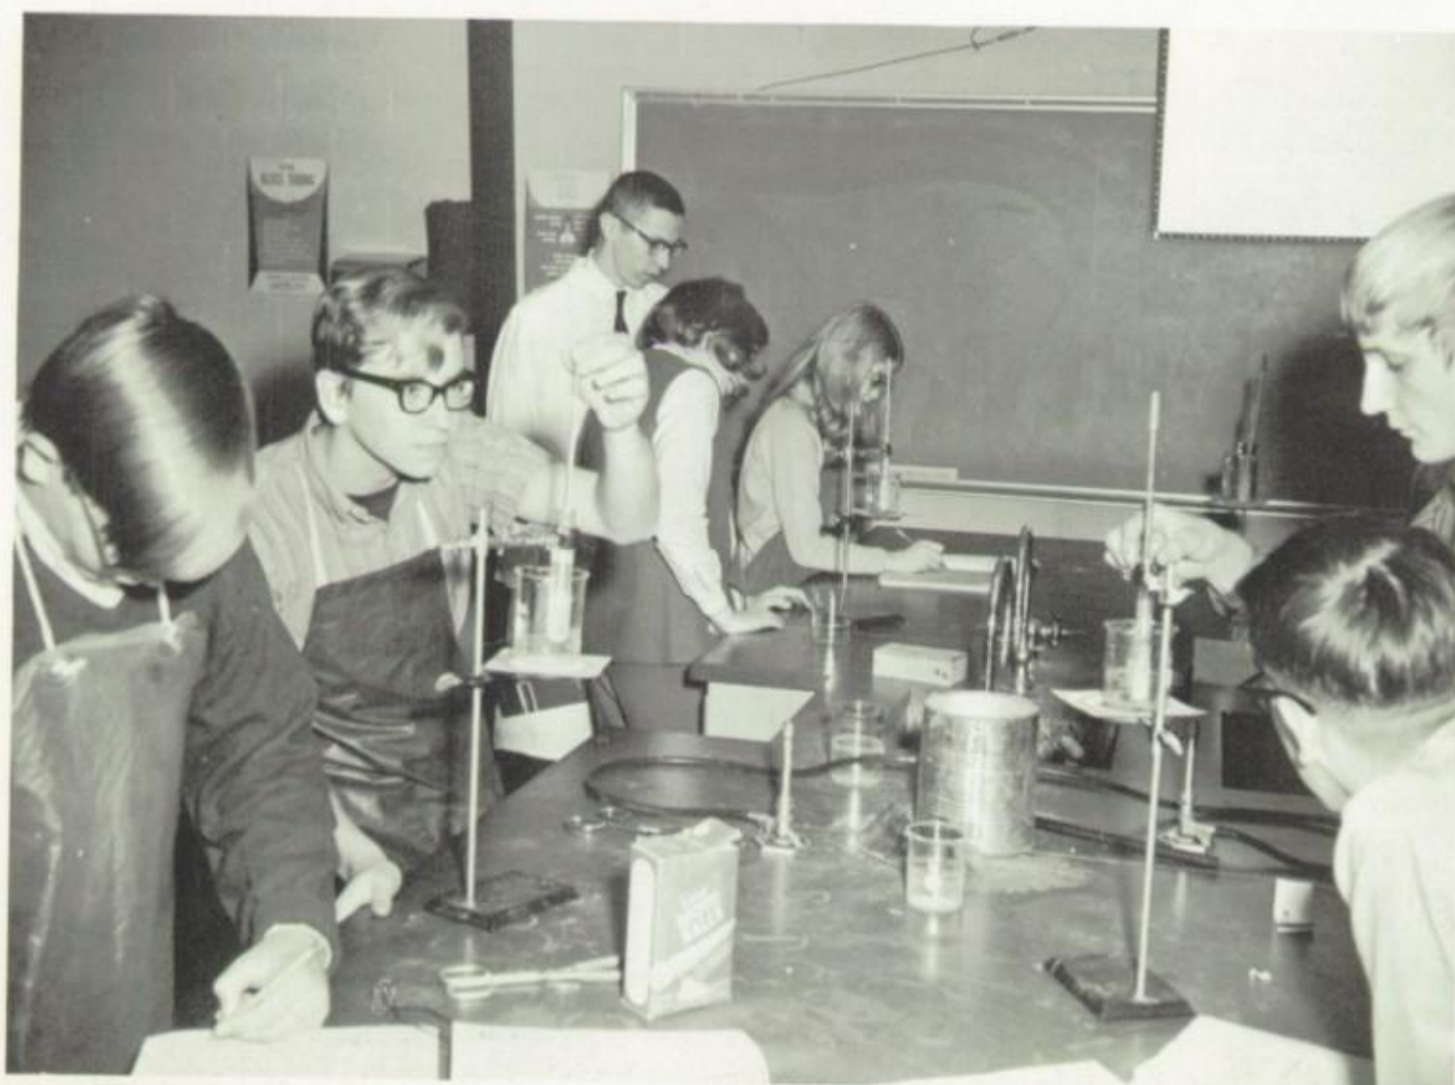

SCHOOL LIFE ?

Morning, evening and at night,

Jesus will be near thee.

LIFE AT LUTHER HIGH is a day at school, beginning with worship and hearing God's Word, then continuing through class activities of various sorts.

There are interruptions in the school day, like the noon hour, which fills the lunch rooms with eager eaters. The hall around the candy store and pop machine becomes a favorite gathering place during free time. And when the school day ends, there is the closing prayer to bring it to a fitting conclusion.

Life at Luther High is also practice . . . the band practicing for its many appearances through the school year, mass choir practicing for the Christmas concert, German band members putting the finishing touches on their Heidelberg routine.

Sports teams practice hard and long for their strenuous seasons; Seniors practice diligently to bring their play performances as close to perfection as possible.

And life at Luther High is fun . . . the fun of friendly games and Christian companionship at a Coffee House or Twirp, the fun of having long hours of play practice finally culminate in a polished finished product, the fun of a surprise Halloween visit at Pastor Schmidt's house, and the fun of giving a special award to a very special teacher.

Lammy,

It's really been some year, hasn't it?
We really never saw much of each other after you switched buses.

The only times we see each other now is in room 4 or by our lockers, or riding home from orchestra. Remember how wild some of those bus rides were. I just can't wait till school starts next year, just think as a lower-

upper. (A-H-A-H) Boy, I must be cracking to want to be back in school to relax in. That to recover from this what am I talking year. Dreary?? Dreary?? about it was groovy. Biology much about that, but I did human with a mussle around his mouth. Dissecting was the best part + that movie on Z.S.D was good also.

English has really been corny - I never knew he had that much pep in him. Speeches have really been fun. Some of them were really funny. Gym has really been fun. Baseball + the tramp were the best. I just wish certain kids would quit screaming when I do a back drop. You don't know what its like falling backwards + everyone is yelling
all that courage built up for nothing.

Well, enough about that.
Could I forget some

Hi Lanny,

This has been some year! Biology was fun, even though Grams had the tendency to pile it on us. All those funny little comments and big feet from the person behind us made the class go fast. I don't know quite how to describe Latin class. At least with Raabe we don't have quite as much homework as we used to. His drawing leaves something to be desired, and so does his humor. That wasn't very nice, it shouldn't have written it. Oh well, what's done is done. Orchestra + band really kept us busy this year. I'm glad it's just about over. All those orchestra trips we went on were fun. They were also very hectic! All the junk we had to carry along or load and unload - can't you just wait till we get those chimes? There'll be another worry added to our collection. I can't wait till summer vacation, when I can recuperate from all this. That gong is really neat, but I wonder how much we'll use it. We've had our share of contests this year. You really have done well - a first at state - Wow! Not many people do that. Remember all our fun P.E. classes? I like playing soft ball outside. Too bad there are only two classes left. Next year we'll probably get archery. That should be fun. Guess I'll quit now. Good luck on semesters and keep up the good work in all you do.

Your friend, fellow percussionist,
+ Biology partner,
Luth

One of the things that adds a dash of spice to the routine of school life is the regular appearance of The Luther Leader. In addition to its news, feature, and sports articles, the Leader offers editorials which have consistently provided plenty of food for thought and argument, as well as a "Letter to the Editor" outlet for students who wish to voice their opinions on any of a variety of matters.

Bratwürste, German potato salad, Gemütlichkeit, and good music these are the ingredients which people have come to expect from Luther's annual Heidelberg festival. This year, an estimated 2500 people converged onto the Luther campus to take in this unique event. Attesting to the growing fame of our Heidelberg celebration were the television cameras from as far away as Minneapolis and St. Paul, making extensive records of the day's festivities.

HEIDELBERG

The snowy December weather brought the overshoes out in force, and added this touch of atmosphere to the Christmas decorations.

CHRISTMAS

Jeff Berg (left) stretches precariously to decorate the Christmas tree in the foyer. A brilliant star shedding its golden rays upon the city of Bethlehem (below) highlighted the seniors' outside decorations.

Pam Wunnecke and Jeff Schaller (above) retreat to the warmth of the foyer to prepare decorations for the outside of the building (where it was cold!). In the gym, a mysterious hand (right) directs Penny Kopp and Harry Blair as they place a wreath above the stage.

The Christmas concert was again the high point of the holiday season. Vocal soloists, instrumentalists, piano, and organ accompanied the mass choir in the cantata that was the feature of the concert.

The senior play this year was the Moliere comedy, The Imaginary Invalid. The gullibility of a hypochondriac, the greed of his wife, and the incompetence of his physicians resulted in many a comical situation. Jeff Schaller and Joanne DePaolo played the lead roles, with support from Doug Bakken, Mike Lenser, Pam Wunnecke, Vicki Nuttelman, Andy Horstman, Jackie Lenser, Ralph Koch, Bev Rohde, Linda Vaher, and Mark Brendle.

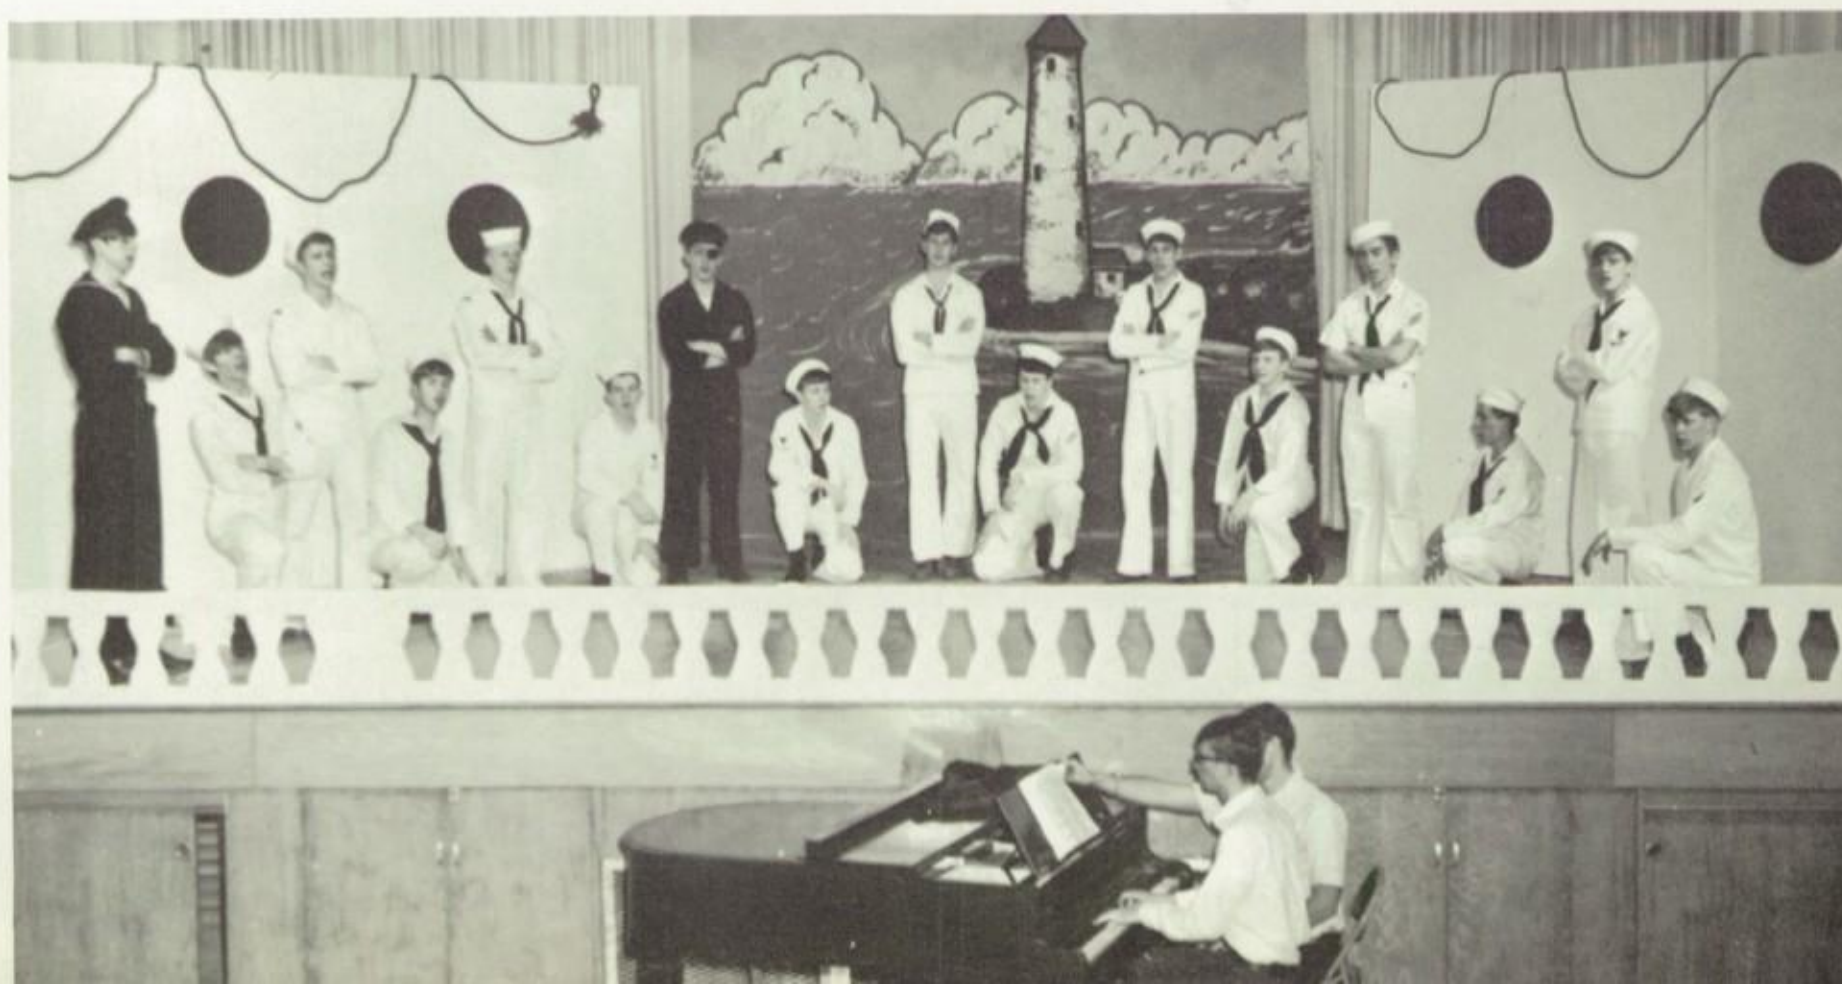

SENIOR PLAY

OPERETTA

Spring 1968 was made immeasurably richer when members of the junior and senior classes presented the comic Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, H.M.S. Pinafore. A satire on the British aristocracy of the late 19th century, the operetta combined humor and pleasant music in a way that made for a very enjoyable evening of listening. The lead roles were sung by Dorothea Siegler, Dennis Beitlich, Jim Wehrenberg, Lynn Miller, and Jeff Schaller.

AWARDS BANQUET

The 1968 Awards Banquet, centering on the theme "Happiness Is," began with a delicious meal and an address from Student Council president, Norm Seeger. It continued with the presentation of awards, such as the literary awards by Mr. Peterson to Barb Schultz and Linda Dietz, and the Musical Knights awards by Mr. Adickes to Thelma Fredriksen and Lynn Miller. It was then brought to a climax by the announcement of the valedictorian, Ron Hanson, and the salutatorian, Ken Pinski.

GRADUATION CLASS OF 1968

The two big events which close out the school year - the Junior-Senior Banquet and graduation - have more than a little in common. For both involve farewell and separation, a leaving behind of friends and familiar activities which have come to mean so much in one's life. And so these two events, joyful as they are, share a tinge of regret, and perhaps a bit of a yearning that the old life with its old ways and its old friends might continue just a little longer.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Cerise Club was the scene of the 1968 Junior-Senior Banquet. Here the juniors bade farewell to their senior friends, favoring them with a tongue-in-cheek look into the future with the traditional senior class prophecy. And the seniors reciprocated with their class will, lovingly bestowing all their prized traits and school possessions to the members of the classes following.

ORCHESTRA

Mr. Jacobs

Once again this year the orchestra played an important part in the school's music program. Under the direction of Mr. Italiano this musical organization, now in its second year of existence, played for a number of occasions outside of its regular concert appearances at school. Once more students received the opportunity to further their knowledge and abilities especially in the area of stringed instruments through the program connected with the orchestra. Mr. Lew Jacobs aided Mr. Italiano with this program by giving specialized instruction on various stringed instruments for those who wanted to work their way into the orchestra.

Class A: Jan Breitenfield, Dick Bakken, Ray Soucheck, Glenda Kohlmeyer, Ron Zimdahl, Sue Miller, Mike Lenser, Jeff Koch.

MASS CHOIR

The Mass Choir, under the direction of Mr. Adickes, is an important part of the music department at Luther. It is comprised of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are given the opportunity to spread the Word of God through song in the Christmas concert and the Reformation service. The Choir also sings secular music at the Spring concert.

recite poetry and big words like Mr. Peterson can. Then I could begin with Mark Antony's funeral oration or something.*

FOOTBALL

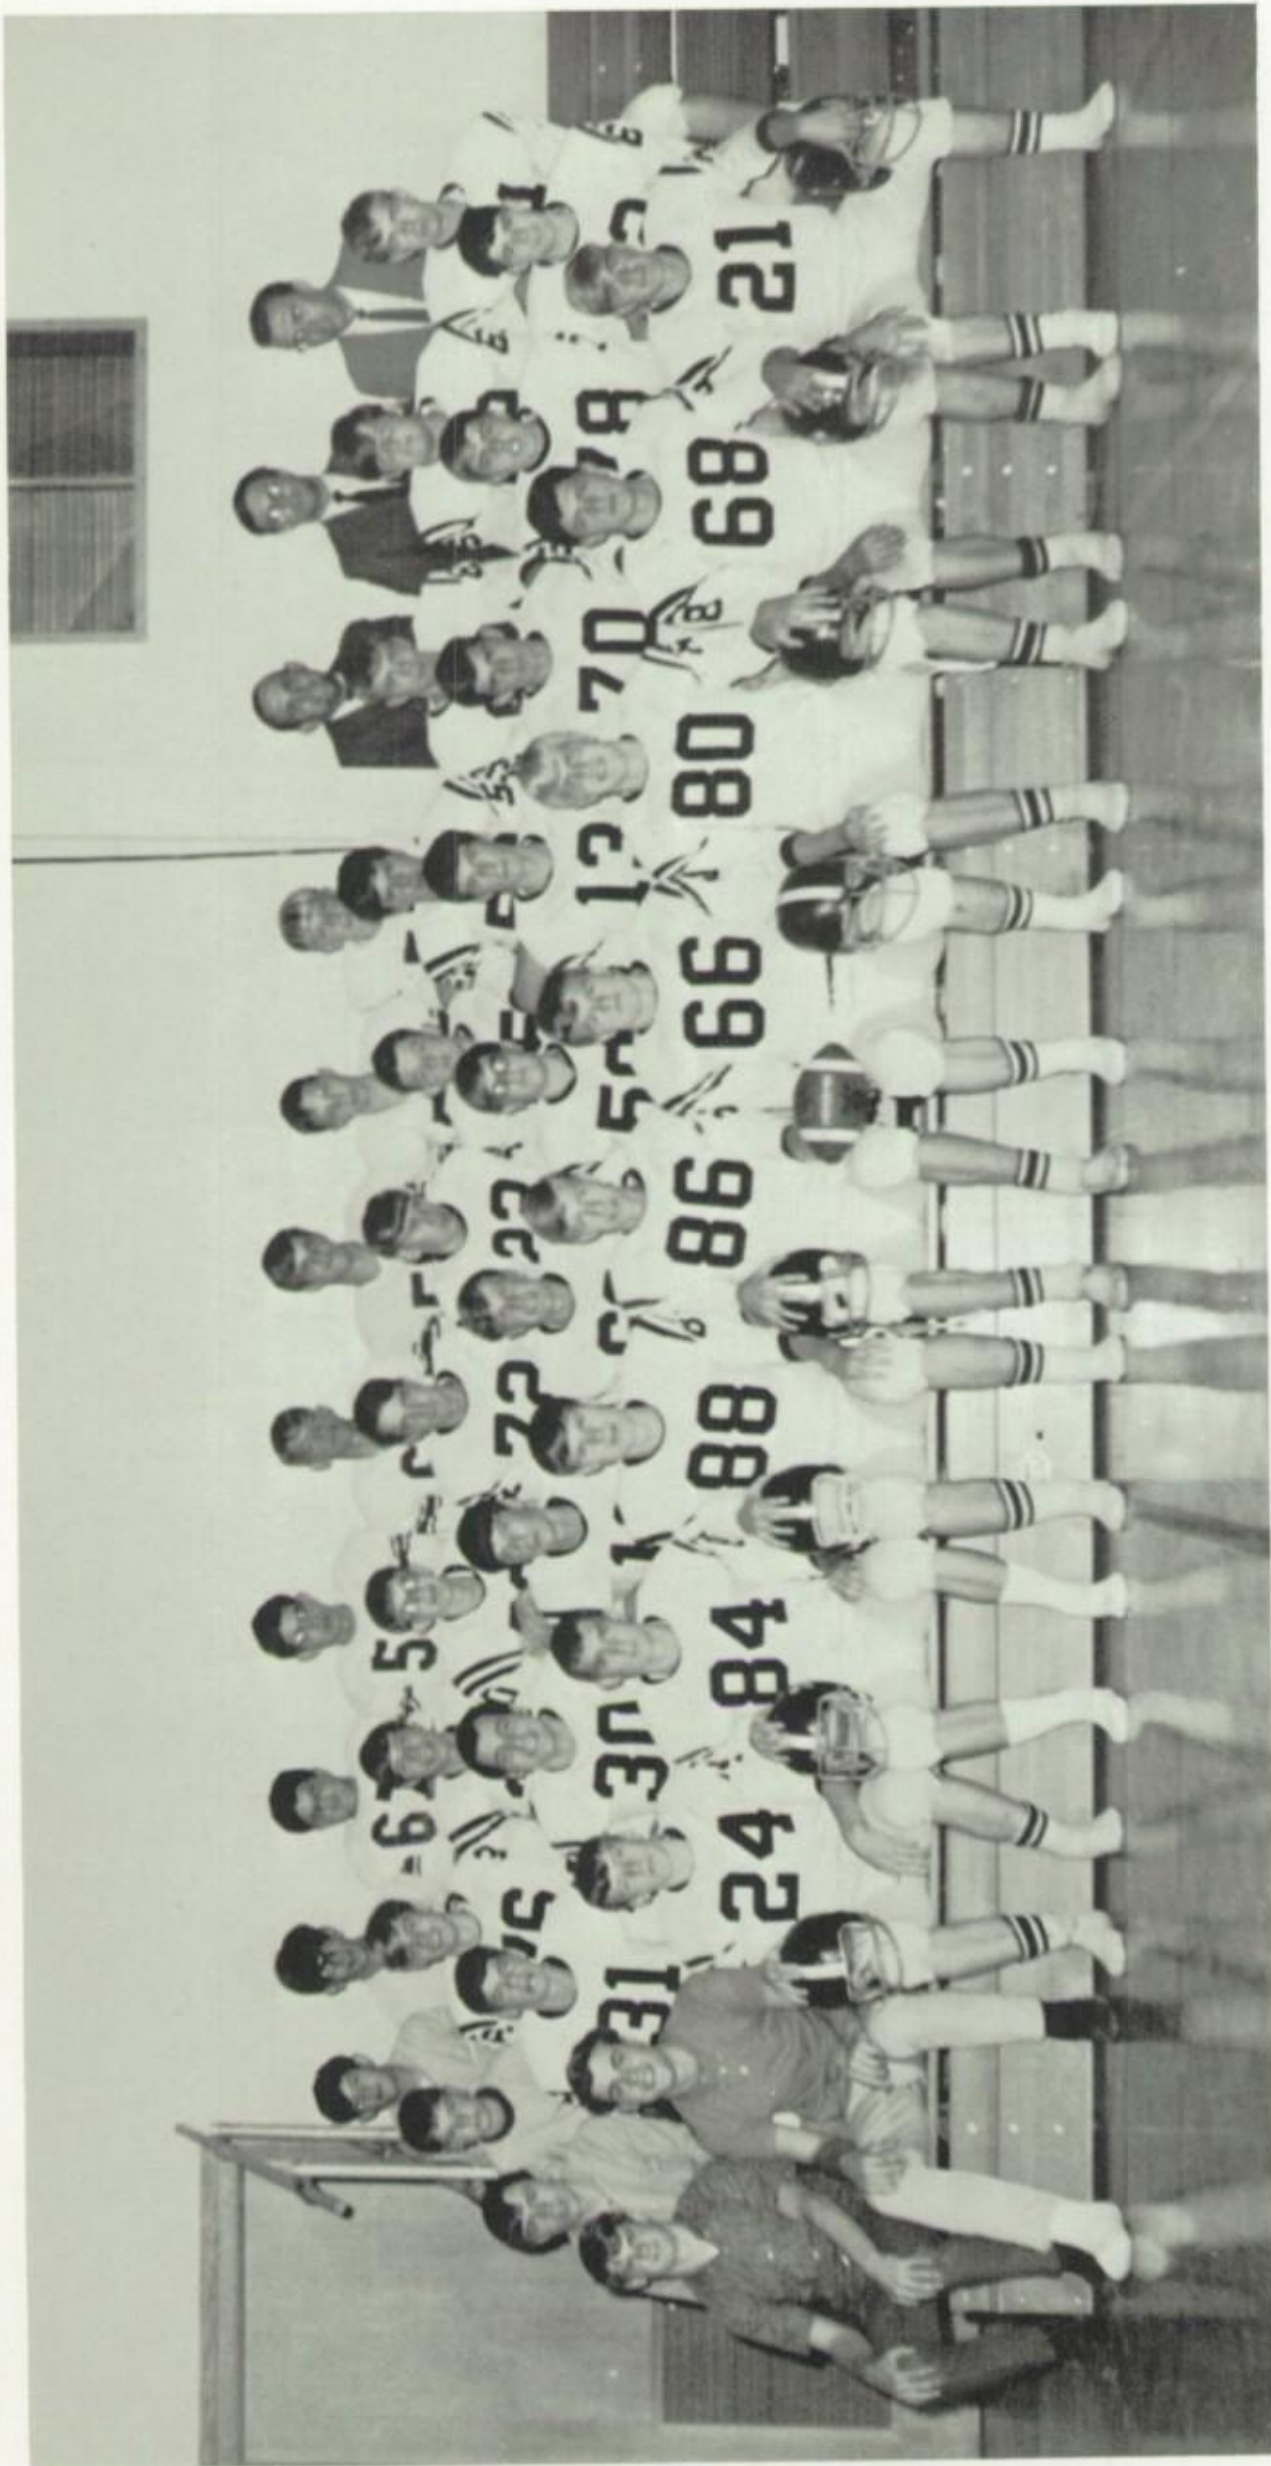

Luther's defensive team digs in for a tough battle on the gridiron.

Chuck Schwartz (opposite page), Luther's leading ground gainer, displays his usual second effort, dragging two defenders with him for extra yardage.

And freshman Rick Gates (right) easily slips around end from his quarterback position.

First row: F. Lautz, H. Blair. Seniors: A. Horstman, C. Schwartz, K. Peterson, M. Brendle, D. Pralle, D. Bakken, R. Koch, J. Hefti. Second row: R. Gates, J. Lautz, R. Folck, J. Hanifl, J. Rundahl, B. Although Luther's victory percentage was a far cry from being outstanding, certain individuals did show excellent work. Chuck Schwartz, in his first year out, led a strong backfield, assisted by fellow-seniors John Hefti and Andy Horstman. Captain Dave Pralle muscled a smaller-than-average line, and Mark Brendle led pass receivers with 18 catches for 246 yards.

Among the underclassmen, the 1969 co-captains, Jon Benrud and Al Austin, showed fine promise, along with freshman Rick Gates. In general, inexperience, coupled with key injuries, made this a long season, but most of the boys will be back next year with hopes for a winning record.

In an otherwise unspectacular basketball season, there were several bright spots that Luther fans will remember for some time.

Co-captain Mike Lenser weaved and bobbed his way through the Lewiston defense to hit on 13 of 25 field goal attempts and 12 of 12 free throws for 38 points - a school individual scoring record. Rick Gates, with three years still to play, scored 27 points against Seneca, and also led Luther to its closing upset over highly-rated Wauzeka with 19 points. And co-captain Andy Horstman, whose steady play made him second only to Mike in season scoring, provided inspiration in every game with his continuous all-out effort regardless of the score.

Andy gets into an argument as he tries a shot against Trempealeau.

Luther's junior varsity basketball team gave promise of better things to come, as the junior Knights rolled to 12 victories in 19 games. Fred Lautz led JV scorers with 193 points, 87 of them coming in five of the last six games. Paul Seeger scored 135 points, Curt Roellich 116, and Rick Gates 105 in eight games before becoming a starter for the varsity.

Put your heart out 111

This year saw Luther cagers participating in two post-season tournaments. The Knights lost their first game in WISAA competition to Holy Cross, 66-51. In the Lutheran High School Invitational at Lake Mills, Luther lost to second-seeded Manitowoc, then came back to defeat Waupun Christian and advance to the consolation finals. In that game, Luther jumped out to a 39-31 halftime lead over Winnebago, but fouls and fatigue took their toll on Luther's starters in the second half, and Winnebago won out, 73-58. Luther's standout guard, Mike Lenser, won a berth on the all-tournament team.

Mike ended the season as Luther's top scorer with 380 points, only four points short of the school's single season scoring record. Andy Horstman followed Mike with 225 points, and Rick Gates had 209.

and then there was Tournament weekend---

Providing plenty of spark at the games this year were Luther's peppy cheerleading squads. Varsity cheerleaders (above) were Captain Jackie Lenser (standing), and Ginger Kleinke, Sue Miller, Candy Wittmershaus, and Karen Schlicht.

GOLF

Golf, the ever-growing sport, again provided challenges for those prone to swing a club. The team achieved a 3-5-1 record with decisive victories over La Crescent, Caledonia Loretto, and, of course, the faculty. Of the losses, one was to the college players of WWTI, and another was a sudden death loss to Caledonia. Doug Bakken, Norm Seeger, and Mike Lenser were letter winners.

Lonnie Carrier, assisted by Coach Erbe, eyes up a putt.

TRACK

The 1968 track team broke the .500 mark with a hot close, finishing 6-4. They also broke four school records: J. Schaller - hurdles (highs and lows); C. Schwartz - 100-yard dash; and R. Otto - pole vault. Thirteen men, mainly seniors, won letters.

Chuck Schwartz lunges to take the hundred with Dave Pralle at his heels.

made up for it by learning Mr. Manthos new & funny (Ha! Ha!) jokes. And that phobia of his I think he's really serious about it, but then other times I don't know.

They ed was another fun class. You never know what Miss Bess will cook up for next. It sure was alot of fun though. It really showed how co-ordinated some of us are. (This is meant to be a compliment!) History class was something else! I hope by next year he can use correct English and say the correct words, so next sophomores don't have to go through what we did!!! Hope he gets that red ink out of shirt! It was fun having class outside although it was uncomfortable and a bit windy. How about that dissecting in biology class? The first time Renta and I dissected the worm, we cut it open at the wrong end! (All that work for nothing!!!)

he can't understand anyone. Mr. Menthe was the same way sometimes, he would be so funny. I can't say much about religion, I really wasn't there half of the time. My Ed. was, well it was, ah, I don't know what to call it, but it was different. We had a pretty good roller ball team, too bad we couldn't have played it a little longer, I was just getting the neck of it, even with the study hall watching. Band was kind of losing this year but maybe it will be better next year. The only thing I really got from orchestra was a sore finger. Well this is getting kind of lengthy and I have two more to go, so I'd better go. We have to get together and do something really different this summer. Keep singing, you're really great.

Joodles, Kathy

Mr Red! Well, here I sit, not being able to think of a single thing to write. We should have done something this year so that I could remember something to write. (wasn't that a good joke?) We did so much I can't remember if it happened last year or this year. I do remember some of those football games where we froze half to death, but the letter jackets kept us little warmer didn't they? And then there was all that frantic cheering for our winning team that kept our blood circulating. Remember Homecoming? That skit was really something. I think you always get the most ~~exciting~~ ^{laughing} upon famous lines like: "Hi Red!" or at Christmas: "You know me on!" The party that night was loads of fun, too. Often all we were the only ones left in the middle of the gym playing cards. I know basketball games where something else. Remember our friend at Macedon, who was a little kiddie? I then there was tournaments. What time did we get tired? That was so much fun, I wish we could go again next year. I wonder if I'm ever found his note. My great stunt of slipping my mickey into your mail! The running up and down those hundreds of steps in the capitol, and then the museum was closed anyway! Remember those girls in the restaurant? Real lady-like. Well, we can't all be lucky and be like them. Phooey! I then there was the great band festival. All that practicing Saturday! I think my lips were about three times bigger by the time ^{we} finished Saturday night. At least you got some half-way decent girls, not some real winners like ours. (that wasn't very nice) I know English classes were enough to kill anyone. Mr. Peterson is so funny. I wonder if he sleeps with his frog. He was so cute that night in the hospital sucking under the covers and everything. I can't say too much for Mr. Rooble's texts though. You're so lucky to be able to have him for Latin yet. Mr. Thomas always managed to
